

Participant-level relationship between weekday and weekend-day activity

Each hexagon represents participants with similar weekday and weekend-day MIMS values; darker colour means more participants. The dashed line marks equal weekday and weekend-day activity. Axes show the central 98% of participant values for readability.